Dear Roelien,

The main reason for my request is that SARS has implemented a new process since I have completed my studies. This new process requires approval from SARS whenever internal information has been used in any research study. Although this approval process was not applicable when I completed my studies (as the policy was not yet in place) I have been questioned on a number of occasions why my thesis is available publically and then need to explain the entire process that it was done long before SARS implemented the internal research approval process.

If the policy of the University is not to remove such from the public domain, I will accept your decision.

Many thanks

Dear Marius,

Your MCom thesis is since 2005 available on the Rhodes digital repository, may I ask what the reason is for it to be removed from the public domain?

You have signed and gave permission at the time for it to be published and made available on the digital repository.

Thank you

Kind regards

Roelien

Good day,

I completed my M.Com (Taxation) Degree a couple of years ago. My Thesis is available on the internet. Is it possible to remove my Thesis from the public domain?
